1. PRIMARY MARKET ANALYSIS - APAC REGION

Week of 2026-07-05 to 2026-07-12

Executive Summary

This week in the APAC region saw a notable absence of significant M&A activity across all sectors, with no disclosed transactions reported. The market sentiment remained cautiously optimistic, buoyed by positive macroeconomic indicators and a rebound in equity markets following easing geopolitical tensions. The overall market dynamics were influenced by the performance of major indices, particularly in India, where the Sensex and Nifty experienced substantial gains, driven by strong buying in IT and banking stocks. Despite the lack of M&A transactions, the week highlighted the importance of macroeconomic stability and investor sentiment in shaping market movements.

2. SECONDARY MARKET ANALYSIS - APAC REGION

Week of 2026-07-05 to 2026-07-12

Executive Summary

The macroeconomic landscape this week in the APAC region reflected a positive sentiment, particularly in the Indian markets, where both the Sensex and Nifty experienced significant gains. The easing of geopolitical tensions, particularly related to the Middle East, contributed to improved investor sentiment. Additionally, lower crude oil prices supported market stability, enhancing the outlook for various sectors, especially IT and banking. Overall, the week was characterized by a rebound in equity markets, despite the absence of significant M&A activity.
